Water, Wind, and Waves: Marine Paintings from the Dutch Golden Age
July 1 – November 25, West Building, Main Floor
This exhibition explores the essential relationship the Dutch had with water through some 45 paintings, drawings, prints, rare books, and ship models. Drawn largely from the Gallery’s collection, scenes range from quiet harbor views, frozen canals, and calm seas to dramatic shipwrecks and fierce naval battles, revealing the full range of marine art during the Dutch Golden Age.

Organized by the National Gallery of Art, Washington / Generously supported by the Hata Foundation / Additional support provided by The Exhibition Circle of the National Gallery of Art

Cézanne Portraits
Through July 1, West Building, Main Floor
This revelatory exhibition of some 60 paintings explores the pictorial and thematic characteristics of Cézanne’s portraits, the development of his style and method, and the range and influence of his sitters. The Gallery is the sole American venue for the exhibition. A free audio tour is available at nga.gov/tours.

Organized by the National Gallery of Art, Washington, the National Portrait Gallery, London, and the Musée d’Orsay, Paris / Made possible through the generous support of the Anna-Maria and Stephen Kellen Foundation / The exhibition in Washington is supported by an indemnity from the Federal Council on the Arts and the Humanities.

In the Tower: Anne Truitt
Through July 8, East Building, Tower 3
One of the most original and important figures associated with 1960s minimalism, Truitt designed simple geometric constructions fabricated in wood and painted in layers of subtle color to create abstract compositions in three dimensions. This survey of Truitt’s art from 1961 to 2002 explores her artistic development in various studios in Washington, DC, where she spent most of her career.

Organized by the National Gallery of Art, Washington / Made possible through the generous support of the Robert and Mercedes Eichholz Foundation / Additional funding provided by The Tower Project of the National Gallery of Art and Steven Elmendorf

Heavenly Earth: Images of Saint Francis at La Verna
Through July 8, West Building, Ground Floor
One of the most innovative Italian books of the early baroque period, Descrizione del Sacro Monte della Vernia (1612) illustrates the experiences of Saint Francis and the buildings of the Franciscan community at La Verna, Italy. Drawing from the Gallery’s rich holdings of works with Franciscan imagery, the exhibition depicts some 30 traditional representations of Saint Francis.

Organized by the National Gallery of Art, Washington
Sense of Humor

July 15 – January 6, West Building, Ground Floor

Prints and drawings have frequently been vehicles of humor, from caricature to satire and the simply comical. This exhibition presents some 100 works from the Gallery’s collection by Pieter Brueghel the Elder, Jacques Callot, William Hogarth, Francisco Goya, and Honoré Daumier, as well as Art Spiegelman, Richard Hamilton, Andy Warhol, and the Guerrilla Girls, among others.

Sharing Images: Renaissance Prints into Maiolica and Bronze

Through August 5, West Building, Ground Floor

Sharing Images tells the story of how printed images were transmitted, transformed, and translated onto ceramics and small bronze reliefs through some 90 related works. The exhibition traces the metamorphosis of designs by Andrea Mantegna, Raphael, Michelangelo, Parmigianino, and Albrecht Dürer, among others, as they moved across artistic media and geographical boundaries.

Organized by the National Gallery of Art, Washington / Made possible by a generous grant from the Eugene V. and Clare E. Thaw Charitable Trust / Additional funding provided by The Exhibition Circle of the National Gallery of Art

Spaces: Works from the Collection, 1966 – 1976

Opening August 4, East Building, Mezzanine

Inspired by single-room artworks presented at the Dwan Gallery during the 1960s and 1970s, this installation features works of minimal and post-minimal sculpture, several of which have been donated to the Gallery by Virginia Dwan or given in her honor. Among the works on view are Fred Sandback’s Untitled (One of Four Diagonals), Charles Ross’s prismatic sculpture Hanging Islands, which was recently refabricated by the artist for this installation, and Robert Morris’s Untitled (Battered Cubes).

Organized by the National Gallery of Art, Washington

In the Library: The Richter Archive at 75

Through August 24, East Building Study Center

The Library celebrates the 75th anniversary of the George M. Richter Archive of Illustrations on Art, the founding collection of 60,000 photographs of the department of image collections. The installation showcases the development of the Gallery’s photographic archives from this initial gift to one of the largest collections of images of art and architecture in the world.

Sculpture Garden
nga.gov/sculpturegarden

A 6.1-acre oasis in the heart of the city, the Sculpture Garden offers a relaxing, year-round setting in which to enjoy 21 monumental works of modern sculpture by artists such as Roy Lichtenstein, Joan Miró, Tony Smith, and others. The Sculpture Garden was given to the nation by the Morris and Gwendolyn Cafritz Foundation, and its elegant yet informal Garden was designed by landscape architect Laurie D. Olin.

The summer hours of the Sculpture Garden are extended to accommodate Jazz in the Garden on Fridays.

Monday – Thursday, Saturday: 10:00 – 7:00
Friday: 10:00 – 9:00
Sunday: 11:00 – 7:00

Guided Tours of the Sculpture Garden

June: Friday, 12:30; Saturday, 1:30, Sculpture Garden, Pavilion Café (weather permitting), 50 minutes
Tours include a mosaic by Marc Chagall and works by artists such as Louise Bourgeois, Sol LeWitt, Roxy Paine, and David Smith.
Films
nga.gov/film

All programs take place in the East Building Auditorium

Leaning into the Wind
June 3
Nearly two decades after his film Rivers and Tides, Thomas Ridelsheimer revisits artist Andy Goldsworthy for another expansive film project on the British sculptor. Leaning into the Wind shares the wistful beauty of Rivers and Tides as it follows the artist through forests, jungles, thickets, fields, and even urban settings, all accompanied by Fred Frith’s music.

From Vault to Screen: Finland
June 10 – 24
Part of a series bringing together new restorations and overlooked gems from treasured film archives around the world, this summer’s offering focuses on the holdings of Finland’s National Audiovisual Institute (KAVI) and the Finnish Film Foundation in Helsinki. The series coincides with the commemoration of 100 years of Finnish independence. Special thanks to KAVI, The Finnish Film Foundation, and the Embassy of Finland.

Serge Bromberg’s Retour de Flamme
June 17
French impresario Serge Bromberg is one of the world’s premiere collectors specializing in the conservation, restoration, and presentation of lost classics and curiosities. This special program, which Bromberg accompanies on piano, includes many of his recent discoveries.

A Brief Spark Bookended by Darkness
June 30
Percussionist Brendan Canty (Fugazi) and self-taught animator Brent Green present Green’s latest handmade film. Accompanied by live narration, Foley sound, drums, and piano, the film weaves an intricate and delicate narrative of everlasting love in an increasingly dark time.
Ingmar Bergman Centenary
July 11 – August 25
Ingmar Bergman was the first narrative filmmaker to probe metaphysical issues of mortality and death, belief and religion, and he was especially known for creating prominent roles for women. To mark the centenary of Bergman’s birth, this series screens films from the first two decades of his career — from the 1940s to the late 1950s. Rarely screened works will be shown, such as This Can’t Happen Here (1950), Sawdust and Tinsel (1952), Summer with Monika (1953), and Wild Strawberries (1957).

UCLA Film and Television Archive
August 4 – 26
The biennial Festival of Preservation organized by the UCLA Film and Television Archive includes rare and recently restored films from the UCLA collection, the second largest moving image archive in the United States after the Library of Congress, and the largest university-based media archive in the world. Selections from the Festival are screened at the Gallery and the AFI Silver Theatre in Silver Spring, Maryland.

Family Activities

Discover a variety of multigenerational programs and resources that engage children, teens, and adults in active exploration of art.

Family Audio Tour: West Building Highlights
This tour offers children and their adult companions an opportunity to get up close and personal with more than 45 of the world’s greatest paintings.
Made possible through the generous support of MSST Foundation.

Children’s Video Tour: Time Travel
Presented in a kid-friendly, interactive style, some 50 highlights from the collection can be viewed at nga.gov/audio-video/video/kids.html.

An Eye for Art
A family-oriented art resource that introduces children to over 50 great artists and their work, with corresponding activities. Available for purchase in the Gallery Shops.

Family Guides
Children ages 6 and up can learn about American, Dutch, French, and Italian paintings in the collection. Available at nga.gov/education/families/family-guides.html.

NGAkids Art Zone for iPad
Art Investigators
These free drop-in programs are designed for individual families on a first-come, first-served basis. Sign-in for children ages 4–7 is in the West Building Rotunda beginning at 10:00 on Fridays and Saturdays and 11:00 on Sundays and continues until all spaces are filled.

This program helps children make careful observations, analyze artists’ choices, ask questions, and use their imagination while exploring works of art. Led by museum educators, each program includes reading a children’s book, exploring one work of art in the galleries, and completing a simple hands-on activity. Each program is approximately 60 minutes. Email family@nga.gov for more information.
